XIII. PORTLAND, OREGON: TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 27. 1883. 25 NO. 7349.

STATUE OF WASHINGTON UNVEILED.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—The unveiling of the statue of George Washington, on the steps of the treasury, was attended by a brilliant company, including the president of the United States, members of his cabinet, mayors of New York and Brooklyn, Bishop Potter, Rev. Dr. Storrs, Collector Robertson and Wm. M. Evarts. George W. Lane, president of the chamber of commerce, opened the ceremonies with a brief address, speaking of the associations connected with the spot. Rev. Dr. Storrs made a short prayer, after which Royal Phelps, on behalf of the statue committee of the chamber of commerce, presented the report to President Arthur. Governor Cleveland then unveiled the statue, and after the cheering had subsided President Lane turned to President Arthur and said that as president of the chamber of commerce the pleasant duty devolved upon him of tendering, through President Arthur, to the government of the United States the custody of this statue of Washington, erected by the citizens of New York, pursuant to an act of congress, to commemorate Washington's taking the oath of office on this spot as first president.

PRESIDENT ARTHUR'S RESPONSE.

President Arthur, replying, said: "Fellow citizens—It is fitting that other lips than mine should give voice to the sentiments of pride and of pleasure which this occasion cannot fail to inspire in every breast. To myself has been assigned but a slight part in the day's services, and I shall not exceed its becoming limits. I have come to this historic spot, where the first president of the republic took oath to preserve, protect and defend the constitution, simply to accept, in behalf of the government, this tribute to his memory. Let the noble statue you have here set up stand where you have placed it—a monument alike to your generosity and public spirit, and to the wisdom, the virtue and genius of immortal Washington."

The chairman then introduced George William Curtis, as orator of the day.

At the close of Mr. Curtis' oration the vast assembly started in singing "Praise God from whom all Blessings Flow."

EVACUATION DAY.

EVACUATION DAY IN THE EVENING.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—A banquet was given by the Chamber of Commerce in commemoration of the evacuation of the city of New York by the British, this evening at Delmonico's. A large number of distinguished guests and prominent merchants were present. President George W. Lane did the honors of the evening. At his right sat President Arthur, Governor Butler, James A. Choate, Henry Ward Beecher, Governor Hamilton, Mayor Edson and Governor Robie of Maine. On the left were Governor Cleveland, Hon. George William Curtis, Governor Waller of Connecticut, Governor Hale of New Hampshire, Governor Murray of Utah, Governor Bourne and Mayor Low. Among others present were William Henry Smith, D. O. Mills, Q. A. Ward and Collector Robertson.

Ninety odd representatives of New York families of 1783 dined to-night in the Hotel Brunswick, to commemorate evacuation day. The dinner was purely social, and there was no presiding officer, and no responses were made to toasts.

The Old Guard gave a reception to-night in honor of evacuation day. There were present the Utica Citizens Corps, the Light Guards of Hartford and Albany, and other military organizations. There were also present Major George S. Merrill, of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery of Massachusetts, Adjutant-General P. W. Guthrie of Pennsylvania, Captain Jacob E. Hermann of Philadelphia, and Mayors Buckley of Hartford and Lewis of New Haven. There were no formalities observed. Songs were sung and impromptu speeches made.

THE "ARISTOCRACY" DID NOT CELEBRATE.

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—Times' New York special: The celebration of evacuation day in New York was probably not very heartily observed by the fashionable element. One of the latest manias of aristocratic Gotham is to imitate the English. They wear English-made clothes, ape English manners, talk with a strong cockney accent, marry according to English forms, and dine, carouse and make merry according to the latest English rules. To be American is in bad taste; to be utterly English is the superior caper; and if an early patriot could have dropped down into New York to-day he would probably rub his eyes in astonishment, and declare that the evacuation of the British had really never taken place at all. Consequently for New York imitation cockneys evacuation day is not the day they celebrate.

A COMPLIMENT FROM THE "THUNDERER."

LONDON, Nov. 27.—The Times, upon the celebration of evacuation day in New York, says: "The keen American mind is turning eagerly toward the best the modern world can give. The intellectual future of each race is not likely to disappoint the most sanguine expectations."

WASHINGTON NEWS.

Creation of New Committees.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—The senate committee on rules has created a new committee on internal improvements, to consist of nine senators, and to have jurisdiction of all matters relating to the improvement of rivers and harbors. To the committee on commerce is left jurisdiction of subjects relating to commerce, shipping, merchants' marine, life saving service and lighthouses. A new committee on expenditure of public money has been created, which consists of seven senators. It will consider measures tending to economy in public expenditures, and conduct investigations into the expenditure of public money ordered by the senate, unless the senate otherwise directs. This work is usually done by a special committee.

Teller Refuses to take Action.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Recently the commissioner of pensions suggested that Secretary Teller formulate the rules to prevent any but reputable members of the legal profession from practicing before the interior department as claim agents. To-day the secretary sent a long letter to General Dudley, declining to take action in the direction proposed, for reason that he considers the present rules of the department sufficiently explicit concerning the exclusion of "disreputable" persons, and the law does not compel a claim agent to be a practicing attorney at all.

The Trichina Investigation.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—The commission appointed by the state department to investigate the causes of trichinae, has closed its labors at Chicago and other western points. It will report in favor of creating a separate board to study the matter at great length, for which a liberal appropriation will be required. The action of the French and German governments is not believed to have been warranted by the facts obtainable.

FIRES.

NORMAL UNIVERSITY DESTROYED.

CAIRO, Ill., Nov. 26.—Fire at Carbondale this afternoon totally destroyed the State Normal university at that city. Two fire engines from here arrived too late to be of service, and were not taken from the cars. The origin of the fire is unknown. No lives were lost. The building was the finest of the kind in the state.

The normal university fire was discovered on a mansard roof. It is supposed to have been caused by a defective flue in the south end of the building. At 3 P. M. the students formed a salvage corps and saved a portion of the furniture and library, in a damaged condition. The museum is a total loss. The building and furniture cost over a quarter of a million.

A WISCONSIN TOWN DESTROYED.

ALBANY, Wis., Nov. 27.—Fire early this morning almost completely destroyed Albany, situated near the eastern line of Greene county, this state. The flames were first discovered at 1 o'clock, and spread rapidly, sweeping away before them every business building in the place, including the postoffice and two newspaper offices. There were no adequate facilities for fighting fire, and it made such rapid headway that a number of people escaped from burning buildings barely with their lives. A young man was killed by falling timbers, and five others were fatally injured from the same cause. The weather is severe and the suffering is great.

RAT PORTAGE DESTROYED.

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 27.—A large portion of the town of Rat Portage, 100 miles east of here, was burned to-day. Ten business houses were destroyed. Buildings were blown up with gunpowder to check the flames. The loss is not ascertained.

America Not to Have a Papal Nuncio—Lord Rossmore Loses His Commission—Notes From Madrid—Etc.

LORD ROSSMORE'S COMMISSION SUSPENDED.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—Lord Rossmore's commission as justice of the peace in county Monaghan has been suspended, owing to his action on the occasion of Orange and league meetings at Rosles, county Fermanagh, October 16. The lord commissioner of the great seal, in a letter to Lord Rossmore, charged him with endangering the public peace by leading a procession of Orangemen in close proximity to a league meeting, despite the remonstrances of a magistrate and the police. The letter concludes by demanding an explanation from Lord Rossmore. Lord Rossmore replied that he was unable to control the Orange procession, which, he said, insisted on marching straight to the place of the league meeting. He is convinced that his action at Rosles was the most practical answer to Gladstone's appeal to the wealthier portion of Ireland.

O'DONNELL'S TRIAL.

SHALL IRELAND BE INCLUDED?

LONDON, Nov. 27.—Marquis Hartington, secretary of state, referring in a speech at Manchester to the proposed inclusion of Ireland in a scheme for parliamentary reform, said it was useless to ignore the fact that many people outside the ranks of the conservatives would view with dislike any measure likely to increase the power of the irreconcilables in parliament. ITALY.

AMERICA NOT TO HAVE A NUNCIO.

ROME, Nov. 27.—The report that the American bishops proposed that the Vatican send a nuncio to America is unfounded. The report probably arose through a misapprehension of the fact that the Vatican thinks of sending Monseignor Siquacci to preside as apostolic legate over members of a council to be held in America in 1884.

AMERICAN BISHOPS CONGRATULATED.

THE TONQUIN TROUBLE.

Reported Defeat of the French Forces by the Black Flags—War Notes.

FRANCE WILL NOT BLOCKADE CHINESE PORTS.

PARIS, Nov. 27.—[Special.]—The British foreign officer, acting upon the conviction that the contemplated blockade by France of Chinese ports would never be respected by English ship owners, has caused the strongest possible representations to be made to the French government, to the effect that such a blockade would be almost certain to disturb the peaceful relations of England and France. The French government has been categorically informed that should any British ships be captured while running the blockade by French war vessels, a popular feeling would break out in England that would inevitably compel the interference of the British government in such a manner as would not be otherwise than disagreeable to France. In order to avoid otherwise certain complications with England, it was to-day decided that in no case shall any part of China be either blockaded or bombarded. Active negotiations, at the instance of England, are now going on between China and France, and it is still hoped that hostilities may be confined to the Red river delta, and any official declaration of war avoided, unless, which is deemed very improbable, China herself declares war after the impending combat at Bacninh.

BERLIN, Nov. 26.—The Paris correspondent of the Cologne Gazette says if the Chinese regulars oppose the French in Tonquin, France will not consider it a casus belli. She will not blockade the Chinese coast nor bombard maritime towns, owing to a fear of complications with England. France is convinced that British ships would not permit a blockade, and if, in case of a blockade, France should capture an English vessel, it is feared England would interfere. There is therefore reason to believe that Ferry favorably received the offer of English mediation. Unless China declares war after the attack on Bacninh, hostilities will remain semi-official, and will be confined to the Red river delta.

MORE OF THE HAI DZUONG FIGHT.

HONG KONG, Nov. 27.—[Special.]—Further particulars from Hai-Dzuong show that in the combat of the 17th inst. the French losses were four auxiliaries killed and two auxiliaries wounded, in addition to those already reported wounded on the gunboat Carabine. The enemy is believed to have lost from 200 to 300 killed and wounded. The entire Red river delta is reported to be revolting against French occupation, and now that the Black Flags and pirates (their allies) have assumed the offensive, it will become a serious difficulty to occupy the towns already taken, and to have sufficient troops in the field to capture Bacninh and Sontay. In the meantime active preparations are being made for the assault of these places. Perhaps, indeed, they have been attacked already. The gunboat Lynx left Hai Dzuong after the Carabine affair, when reinforcements arrived, and the Leopard, having a crew of ninety men under Lieutenant Ferand, has gone to occupy the river near Bacninh, and to cut off the enemy's retreat. All those who were taken with arms in their hands will be put to death without quarter.

ADMIRAL COURBET REPORTED DEFEATED.

PARIS, Nov. 27.—A rumor was current this afternoon in the lobbies of the chamber of deputies that Admiral Courbet, with his forces, has been defeated in Tonquin, by the Black Flags, and his communication cut off. The rumors are given more credence because no official information is forthcoming. Considerable uneasiness is felt at the absence of news from Admiral Corbet's expedition.

MOVEMENTS OF THE FRENCH IN TONQUIN.

PARIS, Nov. 27.—The French gunboat Lynx left Hai-Dzuong soon after arrival. Reinforcements on the Lynx and Leopard have gone to occupy the river near Bacninh, in order to cut off the enemy's retreat.

PARIS INTENSELY EXCITED.

PARIS, Nov. 27.—Excited crowds thronged the boulevards until a late hour to-night, eagerly discussing the rumors of French defeat in Tonquin. The reticence of the government is much commented on. Several members of the committee on Tonquin credits urged Prime Minister Ferry to abandon his reserve and inform the public of the position of affairs. In view of this state of things the following semi-official communication was sent to the papers: "We are authorized to declare that up to the moment of going to press the government has received no dispatch from Tonquin unfavorable to the French. Alarmist reports may therefore be regarded as false."

NOTES FROM PARIS.

PARIS, Nov. 27.—The minister of war is holding a consultation with the general commanding the Pekin expedition, concerning plans for the eastern campaign.

A cabinet council to-day discussed the Tonquin question.

The committee of deputies upon Tonquin credits, after a long session to-day, adjourned until to-morrow, when they will hear Prime Minister Ferry and the minister of war.

MOBILIZING TROOPS.

MARSEILLES, Nov. 27.—It is rumored that 1000 men will be mobilized immediately for China, and General Campenon, minister of war, is negotiating for the services of four great transports on which to forward troops to their destination.

CHINA RESOLVED TO FIGHT.

HONG KONG, Nov. 27.—The governor of Hong Kong has just returned from a trip to Pekin, where he saw the principal ministers of the Chinese empire. He is of the opinion that China is resolved to fight, if forced much further by France in the Tonquin matter. China, he says, has 100,000 trained men available for operations against the French.

ASKING FOR JUSTICE.

Another Organization in Manitoba Demand Relief from Oppression.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 27.—The Manitoba and northwest farmers' unions organized a branch yesterday. It is large and influential and represents a gathering of all political stripes. Universal unanimity prevailed and there was concerted action to secure redress of grievances under which settlers are being crushed. Following is an extract from one of the speeches. It contains the substance of the discussion, and represents the feeling of the meeting. "We meet together to make a solemn, united, vigorous protest against the policy of the dominion government towards the province. When Manitoba entered the confederation it was on the condition that she should enjoy equal rights and privileges with every other member of the dominion. Have we enjoyed, are we enjoying said rights and privileges to-day? I answer no. Every province except Manitoba has control of its land, timber and minerals, which solely benefit those provinces. This right is denied Manitoba alone. All she receives is a paltry subsidy which is barely sufficient to pay a twentieth part it costs to administer the affairs of the province. Again, a most grievous burden has been imposed upon us in the shape of increased duty on agricultural implements. If agricultural machinery is wanted in any part of the world, it is urgently wanted here. Our paternal government has taken advantage of our necessity to oppress us with an iniquitous imposition. What is the result? Struggling pioneers of this country are already on the verge of bankruptcy, if not of utter ruin. Another form of imposition which has been inflicted on us is the hideous railway monopoly which is to bind us up hand and foot for twenty years. The vetoing of local railroad charters is one of the most shameful instances of tyranny ever imposed upon a free people. What is the remedy for this state of things? We must have control of the trade relation with foreign powers and no monopoly. We must have justice for Manitoba. It is all very well to talk of loyalty to the dominion. We must be loyal to ourselves and families, and I fail to see how we can be loyal to ourselves if we any longer submit to the arbitrary, despotic government by which we are at present controlled. I should be sorry to see Britain despoiled of any part of her provinces, but if the oppressive rule of Ottawa is continued, I swear the secession of this province from the dominion of Canada will be inevitable."

A resolution was passed similar to the platform adopted by the Manitoba Rights League of this city. A committee was appointed to visit meetings throughout the northwest, and it is probable that all organizations will be induced to respect the rights of Manitoba and the northwest by the force of public opinion.

THE EGYPTIAN DIFFICULTY.

Matters Daily Becoming More Complicated—Troops Start for Soudan—Etc.

CAIRO, Nov. 26.—The khedive to-day reviewed a number of troops about to start for Suakim. Military critics are not favorably impressed by their appearance. Emissaries of El Mahdi have arrived in Tripoli and Algeria.

CAIRO, Nov. 27.—After a review to-day of troops about to start for Suakim, three Turkish officers went to Baker Pasha and refused to go to Soudan, on the ground that their contract was for service in Egypt alone. It is hoped the matter will be arranged. There is a general sense of eagerness, and signs of revival of religious enthusiasm, at Tantah especially. A captain who brought the news of Hicks Pasha's defeat, stated that he was allowed to escape owing to his profession of being a Mussulman. The massacre, he said, was not so universal as at first believed, and those Egyptian soldiers who were so disposed were allowed to join the forces of El Mahdi. There is reason to believe that emissaries of El Mahdi are busy in large towns of upper Egypt, and a general rising is feared.

CAIRO, Nov. 27.—Six hundred gendarmes have started for Suakim. It is rumored the province of Dongola has risen against the Egyptian government. No further news has been received from Khartoum. The telegraph line between Berber and Kassel is cut.

CAIRO, Nov. 27.—The fact that no news is received from Khartoum is regarded as giving grounds for a hope that the report of the recent fight between Hicks Pasha and El Mahdi was exaggerated. The opinion is that if the worst reports are confirmed it will be best to send troops to Soudan, in order to prevent the necessity for landing Indian troops in Egypt.

EGYPT.

THE SUEZ CANAL.

CAIRO, Nov. 27.—The government has sent a note to the consuls and powers declaring that no changes can be legally made in the statutes affecting the Suez canal without fresh concessions from Egypt.

MISS HILL'S COUNSEL FINED AND REBUKED.

Miss Hill's Counsel Fined and Reprimanded.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27.—Judge G. W. Tyler, counsel for Miss Aggie Hill, accused by the grand jury of addressing them an improper communication, in reference to the Sharon-Hill case, and subpoened to show cause why he should not be held guilty of contempt of court, was to-day sentenced by Judge Toohy to a fine of $500, and in default thereof to be imprisoned 250 days in the county jail. Addressing him the judge said: "I regret that in answering the charge of your misconduct, you have adopted a course which aggravates rather than excuses your gross infraction of the law. Instead of justifying your extraordinary and most reprehensible conduct, if that could be done, you have resorted to a method of defense which bore no justification or excuse for an outrage seldom paralleled in the actions of the members of the bar, and we trust it will not again be equalled in the future history of the state." Judge Tyler, through his counsel, Colonel Flournoy, made immediate application for release on a writ of habeas corpus. The writ was granted, returnable Saturday next before the supreme court in banc.

A Jewelry Thief Captured.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27.—Manuel Teran, a passenger on the steamer San Blas, which arrived here October 30, was arrested in this city November 19, charged with threats against the life of a Mexican woman. While being searched at the police station for a pistol, about $3000 worth of jewelry was found on him. The case was given to Detective Jones, who ascertained that a part of the jewelry had been purchased in this city about a year ago by General T. M. Aguilar of Mexico. The authorities at Mexico were telegraphed, informing them of the circumstances. This afternoon a response was received here to hold Teran until requisition papers, which were already on the way to Washington, were received at Mexico, when the prisoner would be extradited. The dispatch also stated that the jewelry described is a part of the burglary of a pawn broker's shop in the City of Mexico, which was robbed September 11.

Excitement Over the Coeur d'Alene Mines.

[Special.]—It is learned from private advices that preparations are being made by miners in Nevada, Utah and in this state for immigration to the Coeur d'Alene country. Throughout Nevada considerable interest is manifested in that section, and news from former Comstockers who have pitched their camp there is eagerly devoured. A letter received by a miner of Eureka, Nevada, gives a glowing account of the country and advises the writer's friends to start out early. Salt Lake miners appear to be seized with the same spirit and are currently reported to be leaving their town daily. It is estimated that 5000 miners will settle in the Coeur d'Alene district in the next six months.

Eastern Capitalists Coming to the Northwest.

[Special.]—A party of eastern capitalists left here this afternoon for Arizona, where they have a number of mines which are to be operated as soon as machinery is erected. They expect to return in about six weeks, and will then start for the northwest. It is stated that a large tract of land has been bonded to them, through J. H. Carthorne of New York, and that the land has been offered at an average of $2 75 per acre. The tract is said to contain a number of promising coal seams, in addition to which there is also found extensive lumbering fields. Two years ago the same party purchased a tract of land in Dakota, which has since been sold in small sections.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

News Notes from Victoria.

VICTORIA, Nov. 27.—The British Columbia cannery property has been sold by the sheriff, on suit, to W. T. Coleman & Co., for $5,000.

Sailed: Steamship Barnard Castle, for San Francisco.

There was a slight fall of snow to-day, accompanied by a sharp frost, and high winds to-night. The extraordinary appearance of the western sky the last two evenings attracted general attention. The sky turned blood red after nightfall, while immediately below dark, murky clouds stole slowly along the horizon, and added to the grandeur and weirdness of the scene.

It is rumored that the Northern Pacific Railroad Company have bought the wharves and warehouses of Dickson, Campbell & Co., in this city, and will land their freight there.

The report telegraphed that Kicking Horse pass was abandoned for the Canadian Pacific railway is shown to be incorrect by the receipt by the government of dispatches announcing the official adoption of that pass by the Dominion government.

Captain Ferry, acting French consul, was recently taken to the hospital, having been seized with a violent illness, from which his recovery is not hoped for.

RAILROAD NOTES.

BALTIMORE AND OHIO STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 27.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad was held to-day. The fifty-seventh annual report, up to September 30, 1883, shows the earnings to have been $19,759,000; expenses, $11,044,000; working expenses, 55 89 per cent, showing an increase, compared with that of 1882, of $1,355,952. The profit and loss account shows an increase the past fiscal year of $1,555,521. The surplus fund, which represents invested capital derived from net earnings, and which is not represented by either stock or bonds, now amounts to $45,763,479. The following directors were elected: Wm. W. Burns, Robert Garrett, John Spear, Nicholas John Gregg, Wm W. Taylor, Jas Carey Coale, G. A. Von Lingen, Decatur H. Mills, Joshua W. Garvey, George W. Dobbin, Henry C. Smith and Aubrey Pearre.

QUO WARRANTO SUITS COME UP.

TOPEKA, Nov. 27.—The quo warranto suits of the state against the Kansas Pacific railway and the directors of the Union Pacific railway company, to determine the validity of their consolidation, came up in the circuit court of the United States to-day, on the right of defendants to remove the suits from the state courts to the federal courts. Counsel for the state asked for a postponement, and counsel for the companies objected. The court said it would not continue the case, but would put the matter over for the day, announcing that it would dispose of it to-morrow.

KANSAS RAILROAD CASES.

TOPEKA, Nov. 27.—Motion for a receiver of the St. Louis and Western railroad, on petition of the bondholders, was argued to-day before the United States circuit court. Defendants, the company and the Union Pacific, which controls a majority of the bonds and stock and is now operating the road, ask for a decree of foreclosure or order of sale, but resist the appointment of a receiver; while complainants ask that a receiver be appointed, on the ground that the present road is subordinate to the interest of the Union Pacific, which pursued a course of delay which would prevent a sale for its true value while in its hands. Argument closes to-morrow, and a prompt decision is expected.

In the quo warranto case of the State vs. the Union Pacific and the Kansas Pacific Companies, it was agreed by all parties to-day that a motion to remand should be argued at any time and place between December 1 and January 1 the court might name.

THE IOWA POOL TROUBLES.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 27.—Merrill, manager of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, left for Chicago this morning to attend a meeting of the Iowa freight line pool Wednesday. A St. Paul official says the situation is unchanged. They claim to be carrying 60 per cent. of the stock freight, and get from the pool only 20 per cent. of the stock earnings. They ask that stock freight either be diverted or that they be granted a larger per cent. If such an arrangement can be made they will remain in the pool.

IN WALL STREET.

The Bears Control the Market, Forcing a General Decline.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Governments firmer. In the stock market, during the greater part of the morning, speculation was steady to firm, and fluctuations insignificant. Just previous to noon, however, Denver declined 1¾. During the afternoon a weakness prevailed and prices sagged gradually, until the market showed a decline of ¼ to 1¾. In Manitoba the decline was exceptionally large, that stock dropping 2 per cent., from 101¼ to 99¼. In the last half hour business in Manitoba rallied to 100 and fell back to 99, and other stocks recovered ¼ to ¾ per cent. from the lowest point, closing steady at the improvement.

SHOOTING AFFRAY NEAR NEW TACOMA.

NEW TACOMA, Nov. 26.—[Delayed Special.]—News reached here at midnight of a terrible tragedy occurring about eight miles from here, above Brown's point, on Puget sound. The facts, as near as could be learned, are as follows: C. C. Crossin left to-day to go to his father-in-law's place. The latter is named Cheadle. Arriving at the place mentioned, he (Crossin) retired with his wife at 11 o'clock. Shortly after his wife ran from the room, pursued by Crossin, who fired two shots at her. Her father, Mr. Cheadle, rushed to her rescue, and Crossin shot him in the forehead. Mrs. Cheadle appearing on the scene was shot at. Jack Bickers, a step-brother of Mrs. Crossin, hearing the shots, came running out, and wresting the revolver from Crossin, shot the latter in the mouth. It is not known whether Mrs. Crossin or Mrs. Cheadle are hurt. A doctor left for the scene at 12:30. Crossin was formerly one of the proprietors of the Halstead house, and is well known here. No cause for the deed is given.

CROSSIN ACTS QUEERLY AT NEW TACOMA.

On Sunday morning last as Mr. Muntz, blacksmith, of this city, was sitting in the Halstead house, Crossin came in and said: "John, you are my best friend; come out here a few minutes, I want to speak to you." Muntz followed him and they both strolled along A street to the place where the old cannon lays. Crossin then said: "John, old fellow, I came out here last night for a little fresh air and I was attacked by a man with a revolver in his hand. I grappled with him and took the revolver from him, which I flung away. Let's look around and see if we can't find it now." They hunted around for a while, and Muntz finally found a revolver. Crossin then said, "that revolver belongs to me by right, for I took it from the man." After some little parley Muntz gave him the revolver and nothing more was said of the affair. The general impression seems to be that Crossin was not attacked by any one, but went out there with the intention of committing suicide, but at the last moment his courage failed him and he threw the weapon away. Crossin has been acting in a strange manner lately, but no significance can be attached to his movements.

A LATER REPORT.

NEW TACOMA, Nov. 27.—[Special.]—Crossin is not yet dead, but is not expected to recover. Mr. Cheadle, Crossin's father-in-law, escaped with only a scalp wound. Neither of the other parties were hurt. No further particulars at hand.

CRIMINAL CALENDAR.

FURTHER PARTICULARS OF THE LACONIA MURDERS.

LACONIA, N. H., Nov. 26.—The town is still greatly excited over the murders of Sunday morning. Salmon (not Samon as first announced) will remain in the Laconia jail until a hearing of his case is granted. He appears calm, and speaks only when spoken to. Spots of blood, partially washed off by water, have been found in Salmon's bedroom, from which the trunk was taken, and blood spots were also found on the sink and upon a cake of soap, showing that the Ford murder was committed, no doubt, in his room in the upper part of the house. At the inquest Dr. Foster testified that in his opinion Mrs. Ford's death was caused by rupture of the heart, induced by pressure upon the chest, perhaps by the knees of a man or woman. Her stomach was found entirely empty, and it is believed death occurred about twenty-four hours previous to the examination. Ford testified at considerable length, telling a straightforward story. He never suspected any intimacy between his wife and Salmon until three weeks ago. She was always at home when he returned from work, and her absence Saturday night aroused a suspicion that something was wrong. He concluded she had gone to Plymouth, and he stayed in the house that night, and first heard of the murder from officers next morning. It is said that while Salmon was wheeling a trunk through the streets several dogs were seen following, evidently attracted by the contents. Salmon was obliged to stop a number of times and drive them away. A hearing will be given the prisoner at the conclusion of the coroner's inquest. Mrs. Ruddy is slowly improving. It is not decided when the funeral of the victims will take place, as further examination of Mrs. Ford's body will be made.

LACONIA, N. H., Nov. 27.—The funeral of Ruddy and child, victims of the Sunday murder, was largely attended in the Catholic church this forenoon. Mrs. Ford's funeral occurred this afternoon, at the court house. The body was viewed by throngs of persons. Salmon's hearing will probably take place Sunday at the jail, and will be private. He still thinks the house and dead bodies were destroyed by fire. Mrs. Ruddy is in a dangerous condition, and it is feared she will not recover.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY IN TEXAS.

COFFEYVILLE, Ks., Nov. 27.—At the village of Jonesburg, Sunday night, C. B. Hendrick and wife went to the house of a young man named Thomas Maguire, and accused him of maligning the character of Mrs. Hendrick, and shot him dead. The evidence indicates that the woman did the shooting. Both were arrested and confined. Shortly afterward an unknown person fired through a window, wounding Hendrick in the head. He will probably die.

A FORGER ARRESTED.

BOSTON, Nov. 27.—Charles H. Smith, alias William Goodrich, who claims to be an architect from San Francisco, was arrested to-day for having in his possession a check of Boston for $1235, drawn on the Exchange national bank, it being ascertained that he had no funds on deposit in the institution. A cashier's check, presumably forged on the American national bank of Nashville, for $1000, was found on the prisoner.

THE PAULINE MURDER CASE.

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 27.—There are no developments in the Pauline murder case. The post mortem examination showed a cut on the right side and one on the left side, which severed the jugular vein and caused death. Traces of wagon tracks were found leading from the road to the spot where the body was found. It is supposed the occupant of the wagon killed the girl. It is stated the girl did not bear a good reputation.

WESTON MAKES A THREAT.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 27.—Milton Weston was interviewed this evening and said that as soon as he could obtain release from jail he proposed to organize a company and take possession of the well in spite of the sheriff or any one else in Westmoreland county. To-night the telephone wires are cut between Murraysville and Pittsburg, and communication is suspended.

TRIPLE TRAGEDY.

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 27.—A Daily News special from Monroe, Indiana, says: Last Saturday Ace Scott, after two years separation from his wife, returned to her house near Eaton, twelve miles north of here, and insisted that she should live with him again. She refused, when he stabbed her to death with a knife. He then killed the child and took a dose of morphine from which he died soon after.

A WOMAN CONFESSES TO A MURDER.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 27.—Darliford Dispatch: Mrs. Ellen Long, whose trial was in progress for killing Harry Whittermore eleven years ago, to-day confessed the crime, at the instance of her father, Judge Myers of Princeton, who hopes to gain the leniency of the courts. She does not tell the cause of the murder, but it is supposed the boy knew of her intimacy with his father.

"BLACK BART'S" IDENTITY.

DECATUR, Ills., Nov. 27.—"Black Bart," the notorious stage robber who has been operating mysteriously and alone on the Pacific slope, turns out to be Charles E. Bolles, who lived here previous to the war and was a sergeant in the 116th Illinois infantry, serving with great bravery through the war.

A POKER SHARP ARRESTED.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Henry J. Rice, manager of the Mace-Slade combination, was arrested on arrival of the steamer Servia, on a charge of cheating Robert Solomon out of $2755, during the voyage, at draw poker.

A BOARD OF HEALTH AND TYPHOID FEVER.

To the Editor of the Oregonian:

I am glad to see the interest which is being manifested in urging upon the authorities the necessity of establishing a board of health. That Portland should have a board of health, composed of scientific physicians, certainly must be apparent to every thoughtful person. Who can be so competent as physicians to investigate the causes of disease, to direct the removal of such causes and to suggest sanitary measures?

The fact that Portland is defective in sewerage and cleanliness is admitted. And the press has not been neglectful in keeping this fact before the public. That we are at present afflicted with typhoid fever is not a surprise to physicians. We have expected it, and especially have we been reminded of it during night calls when the air seems to be more densely ladened with the poisonous effluvia from hundreds of privies and cesspools.

Typhoid fever is a specific fever, produced by a peculiar poison, which is usually found in connection with putrifying organic substances, particularly fecal matters in cesspools and sewers, especially where their emanations pass into houses or in any way into drinking water.

It has long been believed that typhoid fever has more than a single origin. Some of our most eminent writers on this subject, both in Europe and America, hold to this view.

The causes of typhoid fever have given rise to much investigation and discussion, and on some points the profession are at variance. But that it is a specific fever, depending upon a material poison, is generally admitted. But the origin of this material, the condition of its existence, the mode by which it is increased, and its introduction into the system, and especially the manner in which it effects the system, are questions about which there is still obscurity. That the poison has its chief habitat outside of the body, in decaying matter, especially in human excreta, is established. That it may obtain access through contaminated water, or milk which has been exposed to gases arising from filth, appears to have been proven. It is equally as clear, from numerous recorded facts, that the poison is capable of passing from its source through the atmosphere into the system, and thus infect it. The production, multiplication and dissemination of the poison, and the susceptibility of the system to its influence, are favored by long continued heat and drouth. This poison is more likely to take effect upon young persons than upon old, also those of recent inhabitance. Persons who have once suffered from this fever are not so liable to a second attack. Yet no age or sex, no seasons of the year, no climates or countries are exempt from its poisonous influence when the surrounding conditions are favorable for its production.

RIOT IN PENNSYLVANIA.

ONE PERSON KILLED AND MANY WOUNDED.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 26.—Intelligence was received tonight of a bloody riot at the natural gas wells at Murraysville, Westmoreland county, twenty miles east of Pittsburg, between laborers of rival gas fuel companies, resulting in the death of one man and the serious injury of four others. A burning well at that point is claimed by the Pennsylvania Fuel Company and also by Milton Weston, a Chicago capitalist. The Pennsylvania Fuel Company has been in possession. This afternoon a gang of thirty laborers, in the employ of Weston, made their appearance, armed with shotguns and clubs. Their intention was to take possession of the well and the property surrounding. To reach the well they would be obliged to remove a large pile of lumber. Laborers of the Pennsylvania Fuel Company were digging a trench for a pipe, but as soon as the object in view was made known, C. V. Haymaker, member of the Pennsylvania Fuel Company, ordered the men out of the trench. They were marched, and in order to hold the lumber pile sat on it in a body. Weston's forces moved forward and ordered the laborers to leave. The latter refused to go, and after a threatening demonstration the attacking party raised their guns and fired. The assault was unexpected and the result frightful. When the smoke cleared away C. V. Haymaker and three others were found lying on the ground, Haymaker dead. Three others of his party, whose names have not yet been ascertained, were seriously, and probably fatally injured. A scene of the greatest confusion ensued. The workmen of both parties engaged in a pitched battle, in which a man named Keifer, who belonged to the Weston party, was seriously injured, and many others slightly. The Weston forces, being armed, finally put the Pennsylvania forces to flight, and at last accounts were in possession. The sheriff has been called upon, and a detective from this city dispatched to the scene.

LATER PARTICULARS OF THE AFFRAY.

A later dispatch from the scene of the riot says trouble occurred this morning, and that the Pennsylvania Fuel Company's party, led by Haymaker, were the aggressors. The well was in possession of Weston's forces. Haymaker, early in the day, engaged in a scuffle with a workman named Bowan, and was severely beaten. He then collected eighty of his men, armed them with clubs, and after assaulting and fatally wounding Kiefer, Weston's watchman, Weston's party opened fire, with the result as given in the previous dispatch. Haymaker's party fled. The sheriff was notified, and started to the scene with a posse. It is reported also that Haymaker's brother and friends have organized a party and left for the well with the avowed intention of having revenge at any cost.

1:30 A. M.—Reports from Murraysville are conflicting, owing to a lack of telegraph facilities. The first story telegraphed is now confirmed. The attacking party were led by Albert Bowser of Irwin's station. When they appeared at the well Haymaker mounted a board pile and ordered them off. Bowser charged on him, and stabbed him in the stomach four times, and then shot him in the side, killing him instantly. An order was then given by Bowser to shoot and six volleys were fired. Three of the Pennsylvania Fuel men were injured, and the rest, being unarmed, fled. Bowser then took possession, and with twenty-two men is keeping the sheriff and a posse of twenty-three at bay. Sheriff Keiteridge succeeded in capturing four of Bowser's men. An inquest is now being held. Intense excitement prevails, and another outbreak is expected at any moment. Bowser's or Weston's forces are armed with Winchester rifles.

LATEST NEWS FROM MURRAYSVILLE.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 27.—Intelligence from Murraysville reports that comparative quiet reigns this morning. The Weston forces surrendered to the sheriff and posse as soon as they found they were officers, but at 3 o'clock this morning the prisoners made a break for liberty, and fourteen escaped. Warrants have been issued for the arrest of the whole Weston party. Information made against them charges murder. An inquest is now in progress, and will be concluded at noon.

ALL QUIET AT THE DISPUTED POINT.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 27.—A Murraysville dispatch says that at 2 o'clock the inquest was not concluded. This morning fifteen men belonging to the Weston force arrived, and are now on the ground, but have not attempted any violence. Fourteen of the Westons who participated, but were not arrested, were taken at Greensburg, where they will be given a hearing this afternoon. Bowser is charged with murder, and the others with riot and felonious assault. Everything is quiet at the disputed point. Both claimants have been notified to keep off the grounds by the sheriff. The feeling is intense, and in favor of the Pennsylvania Fuel Company.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 27.—All is quiet at Murraysville to-night, there being no further disturbance. The leaders of the aggressive party being in jail, none is apprehended for the present. The excitement was kept at fever heat all day by unfounded reports that bodies of armed men were on the way to the scene.

VERDICT OF THE CORONER'S JURY.

The inquest was concluded this evening. Testimony elicited proved that the attack on the Haymaker party was most brutal and unprovoked. It was shown that Bowser killed Haymaker; also that he gave the order to fire and that the Haymaker party were unarmed, and acted entirely on the defensive. The verdict rendered charges Bowser with murder, and the others with felonious assault with intent to kill.

A preliminary hearing was given the fifteen prisoners at Greensburg, after which they were lodged in jail to await trial. The leaders are Milton Weston of Chicago, William Meechling of Greensburg, James F. Johnston of Pittsburg and D. Crawford of Greensburg, all prominent. Being charged with murder, they will not be admitted to bail. The wounded are doing well, except Heifner, who will probably die. A post mortem examination of Haymaker's remains developed eleven bayonet and two bullet wounds. Any of the bayonet wounds would have been fatal.

WAR OF RACES.

Serious Trouble Anticipated from Colored People—Military Invoked to Preserve Peace.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 27.—Hearing of threats of lawlessness by negroes in the city, the mayor last night ordered out two military companies to protect the town. The negroes are incensed and have been threatening retaliation ever since the lynching of Lewis Houston for attempting to outrage a white lady on Thursday night. They charge that the jailer willfully surrendered the prisoner to the mob on Saturday night, and that the authorities neglected to take any measures to prevent the lynching. Early last night groups of negroes collected at different places discussing the matter. They were heard to threaten to burn the jail and house of the woman who identified Louis Houston as her assailant. By 10 o'clock the negroes had entirely disappeared from the streets, and none could be found at the places where they usually congregate. No services were being held at any of their churches. The military remained on duty all night. Mounted Gatling guns are on all the principal streets. The intended victim of Houston is a northern lady who recently came to live here.

ANOTHER WORD FROM A FARMER.

HUBBARD, Nov. 25.

To the Editor of The Oregonian:

I have been very much interested in the discussion of the scarcity of farm products and their markets in The Oregonian. Some of your criticisms are very just and some are not. With regard to oats, enough were sown on the French prairie to have raised sufficient for home consumption and to supply the Portland market, if we had had the usual yield. As it was, we only had a half crop. It was the same with hay. We had only from one half to three-fourths of a ton to the acre.

You also complain because we do not raise onions. I can easily raise onions, but I cannot keep them. Last summer I thought it was so dry that they could be cured, so as to save them, but we failed. When they matured we pulled them up, sunned them for a few days and then spread them on the loft of the woodshed, but they are rotting badly. Will some of your correspondents please tell me how to keep them?

You severely censure the farmers for their poor butter. Some of this is deserved. Butter is frequently sent to market that "smells to heaven." There is some good butter made on the farms, but there are but few farmers' wives who make enough to justify them in seeking a special market for it; so it is sold at the stores, where it receives treatment that would spoil the best butter in the world.

Go into the wareroom of almost any of these stores, and you will find dry and green hides, bacon, coal oil and all other oils usually sold in such places, dried apples, sugar, coffee, etc., and stuck up in one corner you will find a goods box with shelves in it where the rolls of butter are laid until enough is bought to ship. Many are not so careful, but simply lay a pine board on the head of a sugar barrel, where the butter is laid, and the rats and mice run over it as they please until it is sent to Portland as first-class butter. If this meets your approbation, I will tell you something more about the way our produce is treated before it reaches the consumer.

STEEL TRAPS AND PLOWS

In the struggle for the possession of Oregon Dr Barrows says in the book to which we recently called attention, that "the United States found to be true what the world knows that plows hold a country better than steel traps and Great Britain learned that the law of nations in assigning a new country is apt to follow the track of immigrant wagons" And while presenting the one topic the concession of Oregon, as he so ably and interestingly does he also shows incidentally and as a vastly instructive feature of the story how wanting in honor and philanthropy and patriotism a huge chartered monopoly can sometimes become "It would require" he says "statesmen of the Bismarck and Webster and Gladstone type to show how much the British empire was damaged when the Hudson Bay Company voted the northern half of our continent to be wilderness in perpetuity This company was chartered by Charles II in 1670 and was made for 'all time hereafter capable in law to have purchase, receive, possess, enjoy and retain all lands rents, privileges liberties, jurisdiction, franchise and hereditaments of what kind nature or quality soever they be to them and their successors through an extent of territory larger than all Europe, and larger than the United States of to-day Alaska included by half a million square miles The company held that region as a man holds his farm and could legislate over and govern it, bound only by the tenor and spirit of the English law and make war and peace within it, and all persons outside the company could be forbidden to "visit haunt, frequent trade traffic or adventure" therein And for all this, and as a confession of allegiance to the crown as a dependent colony, they were to pay annually as rent two elks and two black beavers In 1821 it united with the Northwest Company in order that there should be no rival to share the field or waste the profits in litigation or in bloody feuds beyond the reign of law, and its monopoly of trade was extended If minor or rival companies stood in its way they were bought in or crushed by underselling to the Indians Individual enterprise was at their mercy They practically controlled the introduction of supplies, and the outgoing of furs and peltries from all the immense region between Newfoundland and Vancouver and the head of the Yellowstone and the mouths of the Mackenzie. Its chartered territory was at first imperial, and as it grew its monopoly of trade became at last "continental in sweep irresistible in power and inexorable in spirit The original stock of the company was $50,820 In fifty years it was tripled twice by profits only, while not one new dollar was paid in, and when it absorbed the Northwest Company the consolidated stock was $1,916,000, of which $1,780 806 was from profits

"One cannot but admire, says Dr Barrows "the foresight, compass, policy and ability with which those English fur-traders moved to gain possession and then keep in wilderness for fur breeding so much of North America Travelers tell us of an oppressive, painful silence through all that weird northland and this 'company has partaken of the silence of its domain" It makes but little noise and 'the statements of its works and results are mostly in the passive voice The interests of the company were of course adverse to colonization It had the delegated sovereignty of Great Britain to control Rupert's Land originally and all wild land contiguous for raising fur bearing animals It was the policy of the company to hold back all this country from settlement and civilization and continue it in wilderness as a grand private game preserve 'Down the ages it was to be kept for the raising of beaver and muskrat mink bear and otter 'The call of herdsmen and the varied sounds of farm work the echo of mechanics and the sweet voices of village life were withheld by royal charter from these regions" No local property could be acquired by individuals, so as to form social and business centers and thus plant the germs of civilization The introduction of cattle was opposed. The company released no man in the country for fear that he might settle down on a farm and that farm might have a neighbor and then a neighborhood For then the beaver dam might become a mill dam and mankind, instead of corporators and stockholders, would take possession of the country Christian labor among the Indians which tended to elevate them to either principles or habits inconsistent with the labors which the company might require, was not tolerated As a result of this policy the great trade of the company has in two centuries carried out of the country by estimation, $120 000 000 in fur, reckoned on a gold basis and at the same time so protected the wilderness against civilization that the average yearly catch was not diminished

At the same time American emigrants with no monopoly, and giving men women and children preference and protection on the wild borders over bears and silver foxes esteeming an ox above a buffalo, and a sheep above a deer, have planted Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin on the great eastern pastures of the buffalo. As late as 1870 the posts of the Hudson Bay Company on the Saskatchewan alone furnished 30,000 buffaloes in a country where a dozen starving Irelands could be located without crowding each other The home government has been robbed of a colonial growth and lost by the hundreds of thousands her own emigrants who have settled in the United States 'The emigrant wagon cultivation mechanics, a various trade, and general civilization have kept on the American side of the boundary." The American policy in its best form was inaugurated in New England by such men as John Winthrop the first governor of Massachusetts who in selecting a home would be 'near churche and some good schoole" It was the policy which led to the enactment of the colonial law of Massachusetts in 1635, 'that hereafter noe dwelling house shalbe builte above halfe a myle from the meeting-house in any new plantacion without leave from the court" This policy was pursued by the Ohio company which founded Marietta in 1788 and voted that the directors be requested to pay as early attention as possible to the education of youth, and the promotion of public worship among the first settlers.' Before such a grand army of occupation 'the steel trap brigandes" have retired While the English trader has been running his "birch and batteaux up the streams and round the lakes to bring out furs and peltries, the American emigrant has been hauling in with his rude wagon the nineteenth century' Since the United States became a nation we have added from what was under the Spanish flag enough territory to make five Spains of to-day, and from French dominion what would equal France four and a half times For the loss of so much realm in the new world these European nations 'are indebted to their feudal system and chartered monopolies' They made no plantations in America for the sake of America or for the colonists but for chartered monopolies and the home governments By such a policy 'Great Britain lost her thirteen colonies and afterwards Oregon One of the best friends of our original colonies early saw and said that such a people as the [illegible] suffer in their borders such a monopoly as the European Hudson Bay Company We trust that such a people as we have become will not suffer any other monopoly to blight the development and civilization of this vast region which has been once seized for the occupation and ownership of the human race from a gigantic feudal monopoly which attempted to keep it as a wilderness, for the increase of stock dividends.

Mormons are coming from Idaho into southeastern Oregon and settling there in considerable numbers.

MALARIA

Malaria and the Progress of Medicine is the title of a short article in the Popular Science Monthly for December in which the interesting theory is advanced that there is no malarious miasm at all but that malaria is a profound disorganization of the nervous mechanism that presides over the temperature of the body" Evidences have been for some time accumulating that malaria has no necessary connection with a marsh From 1840 to the present year some twenty different vegetable organisms or spores of very various degrees of complexity, have been described each in its turn as the malarious miasm and as the specific cause of remittent and intermittent fevers and the quest for a material substance assumed to be the cause of malarial fever is still regarded with much favor in the best scientific circles But the writer of this article says that the new explanation has the best of the facts and the best of the logic on its side There is no more beautiful mechanism in nature than that which keeps man's internal heat always about ninety eight degrees day and night summer and winter in Arctic regions or in the tropics but even that most wonderful of all self adapting pieces of mechanism if it be taxed too much as by extremity of day and night temperature will get out of gear, and a fever still retaining something of diurnal periodicity will be the result This is more likely to occur in regions where the ground is rapidly cooled and a large amount of vapor is condensed in the lower stratum of the air, and those persons who are exposed during the day to extreme solar heat and to fatigue and at sundown and in the night to the tropical or sub tropical chill will be most subject to this upsetting of the heat regulating center Whether this new explanation of malaria is correct or not it is sufficiently suggestive to operate as an additional motive to prudence in localities where malaria prevails If the explanation should prove to be true we should be relieved from the fatalist's doctrine of vegetable organisms of the lowest grade making ceaseless war upon mankind and the prevention of malaria would become merely a question of common prudence in warm level and moist countries against exposure of the body to the direct action of the sun's rays and to the nightly chill that follows The general exemption from malaria here during the smoky season may find in this explanation an intelligible cause The smoke, by preventing the direct action of the sun's rays upon the human body may have protected the health of the community as well as secured the growth of wheat

CAUSE OF TYPHOID.

From interviews with several physicians yesterday it was learned that typhoid fever is not confined to any particular locality but extends from one end of the city to the other Nor is it confined to the poorer sort of dwellings but is found as well in new houses furnished with the best sanitary arrangements The cause whatever it may be is epidemic The physicians have not yet been able to fix certainly upon the cause but the weight of opinion charges the evil upon the filthy streets Said one of the doctors yesterday "In the course of the summer a great deal of organic matter of one sort or another finds its way into the streets It is swept from houses thrown off from vegetable wagons and comes from many other sources It lies corrupt and corrupting and breeds fever poisons which are taken into the system with the breath The sewers too emit deadly smells which are taken into the system in the same way He did not care to give it as a fixed opinion because he had not given the matter complete investigation but he was under the impression that the streets and the sewers were at the bottom of the mischief At present there are about one hundred cases of typhoid in the city, in some instances the disease being of a malignant type

The New York Sun thinks it is a high tribute to the character of Mr Holman as candidate for president, that it should be rumored that the 'great railroad corporations the rings the jobbers and the lobby would combine their strength and make up a large pool of money to defeat him should he be nominated for the presidency The Mail and Express seems to think that this combination of the great corporations is premature for it says there was once an ancient maiden lady upward of 70 years of age who was found convulsed with hystericky grief because she had dreamed she had married and that her only child had crawled into the oven and been roasted to death This threatened combination and culmination of calamities was a high tribute to her maternal sensibilities The corporations will not be compelled to spend money to defeat Mr Holman and on the other hand they will not be able to spend enough money to elect Henry B Payne of Ohio one of the partners in the Standard oil monopoly

Mr Keifer, speaker of the last house is pressing his claims for the compliment of the republican nomination for speaker of the new house This would be in accordance with custom but he has already done the party damage enough to satisfy the ambition of any man except Frank Hatton or George C Gorham It would not require much exercise of their brains for the republican members of congress to injure the prospects of their party for the coming campaign The indorsement of Keifer would be a very simple and easy way of accomplishing that end

The favorable expression of the chairman of the committee on territories with respect to Alaska is gratifying but it does not decide the matter It will be found when congress meets that Senator Miller of California and other friends of the Alaska Fur Company are on hand The Alaska company does not desire any change in the affairs of Alaska and will strive to prevent proper favorable action It is to be hoped that their efforts will fail this time

UNRULY HACKMAN.—From 1 to 2 o'clock this morning, Harry Brazier, a hack driver not unknown to the police, drove his team at break-neck speed up and down Front, First and Second streets. He was very drunk, and was having a good time with "his woman." Policemen Flynn and Ward finally stopped him, and at the city jail had quite a struggle with him. Only three charges are booked against Brazier—fast driving, assaulting one officer, and resisting another. A fourth charge of drunk and disorderly might just as well have been made, but when he settles for the other three the city will be sufficiently enriched for a single spree.

A WARM DAY.—The weather yesterday, following Monday's storm, was a surprise. Slight rains fell, and a warm, gentle southern breeze prevailed all day. To those who had donned heavy garments, the weather was excessively warm. The thermometer at noon marked 56 degrees, and at 8 P. M. had dropped only two points. Throughout the evening the warm breeze continued, and at midnight the air was not cool enough for wraps.

ASKS A DIVORCE.—Ida M. Feaster has begun suit in the state circuit court praying for a decree of divorce from her husband, John P. Feaster, upon the ground of desertion. Judge Stott yesterday issued an order authorizing the publication of the summons in the case and requiring a copy of the same to be mailed to the defendant at Victoria, B. C., where he now resides.

SNOW IN THE BLUE MOUNTAINS.—A correspondent writing from Meacham's station under date of the 26th, says that the snow in the Blue mountains lies from two to three feet deep. The construction train running from Meacham's to the front has been hauled off for a few days, the snow preventing anything like satisfactory progress.

IN NEW QUARTERS.—The furniture and books of various city officials will be removed to-day to the new offices rented by the city in Dekum's block, at the northeast corner of Third and Washington streets. In future persons having business with the auditor, superintendent of streets, or city surveyor will find them at the above address.

OFFICERS ELECTED.—At the regular convention of Castle lodge, No. 13, K. of P., held last evening, officers for the ensuing term were elected as follows: C. C., L. Robertson; V. C., L. Cohen; M. of E., W. L. Brooke; M. of F., J. Waddell; M. at A., R. Ruble; P., Oscar I. Clay; Trustee, R. D. Coy; K. of R. & S., H. Pander.

BRIEF MENTION.

The Columbia arrived here at 8 o'clock yesterday morning.

E. W. Moore, the crayon portrait artist, is hard at work on Christmas orders.

Extensive building improvements are especially noticeable in South Portland.

Prizes for the G. A. R. masquerade, to be given the 17th of next month, are now on exhibition.

Several railway velocipedes have been received in this city for use on the Oregon and California road.

J. H. Fisk has bought the assay office at No. 7 Stark street, and will be found there during the winter.

Complaint is made of the condition of the sidewalk on the south side of Taylor street, between East and West Park.

In the case of the state of Oregon vs. John Dourns, the grand jury yesterday returned not a true bill, and the prisoner was discharged from the county jail.

And now the Thanksgiving turkey lays his head upon the block, and yields up his life cheerfully, proud and happy that he dies for his country's good.

The Martha Washington Circle, Daughters of Liberty, have offered a reward of $50 for the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who stole their charter.

A ten-year old son of Chris. Nelson, living at Garden home, beyond Mount Zion, fell from a tree yesterday afternoon and broke his right leg. The boy was brought in last night and taken to St. Vincent's.

Two more attachments have been put upon the store of M. Summerfield, which was closed by the sheriff on Monday. The suits were brought by Cohen, Davis & Co. for $195, and Ivan R. Dawson for $1250.

A sheriff's jury will be summoned to meet on Tuesday next, at 10 o'clock A. M., to try the rights of Mrs. Rosa Bachman to the furniture which has been attached to satisfy certain judgments against her husband, Joe Bachman.

The defendants in the case now on trial before Judge Deady seem to think they will have no difficulty in showing that the plaintiff not only was not injured by the flogging he got, but that, on the contrary, he was needing it and that it did him good.

The old Vancouver ferry, Veto No. 2, is now doing service on the Stark-street line, while the big boat is being fitted up with the Gates hydraulic steering gear, that is to enable her to make quick trips the year around in spite of all kinds of wind and weather.

About 6 o'clock yesterday morning a stranger walked off the pontoon of the railroad ferry on this side, and shouted lustily for help when he found himself in the water. Walter Carho, a hackman, rescued the imperilled individual, who walked off without volunteering any explanation of his seemingly careless conduct.

HOW A GAMBLER WAS WHIPPED.

John Boyle, a "Bad Man from Boise," Sues Prominent Citizens of Astoria for Damages—The Trial Yesterday.

The case of John Boyle vs. I. W. Case et al., a suit to recover $25,000 damages for alleged brutal treatment inflicted by the Astoria vigilantes last July, was on trial yesterday in the United States circuit court. About seventy spectators were present. The jury consisted of B. F. M. Linch, H. G. Ringo, A. M. Shibley, Seth Morton, W. W. Culver, M. Cunningham, Hugh Hamer, A. Andrews, J. D. Arthurs, Geo. W. Houch, Case Gibson and J. B. Harris. For Boyle the counsel were Messrs. Johnson, Farmer and Bybee, and for the defendant, Messrs. Williams, Mallory, Hill and Winter. Boyle is a Canadian, aged about 29 years, with strong frame of medium build, dark complexion, black hair and a small, black moustache, rather respectable in appearance, and in court was neatly dressed in a suit of black. In Astoria he was known severally as John Jones, "The Bad Man from Boise," and "Arizona Jack." The defendant, Mr. Case, is a banker of Astoria, and his co-defendants are respectable business men and citizens of the same place.

Boyle testified that in Astoria he was working in a saloon. After the fire he was notified to leave town, but failed to go. He was arrested and lodged in jail, where he was visited by the vigilantes. They took him to their committee room, handcuffed and blindfolded him, put a stick gag in his mouth and marched him up a hill. They gave him his choice of leaving town or receiving twenty-five lashes on his bare back. He refused to go, and they advised him to write to his parents, and asked him the address of his parents. They then ordered him to halt, took off the handcuffs and warned him that if he attempted to move they would kill him. They then gave him twenty-five lashes on the back, lacerating his body and making it swell so that he could scarcely button his vest about him. He thought that a few more lashes would kill him. He suffered intense pain for two months afterward.

On cross-examination he testified that when he was in Socorro, New Mexico, a party of vigilantes ordered him out of town, and he declined to go, when he was allowed to remain unmolested. He told this circumstance to the Astoria vigilantes, but not to intimate that they could not drive him out. While drunk one night he accidentally discharged a pistol in "Russian Bob's" saloon. He had played poker and faro, and was about gambling houses a good deal, but denied trying to open a gambling house about Astoria. He was known as John Jones, because when some strangers asked him his name he thought it was none of their business, and replied "Jones." He had never told anybody that he was a bad man. He had a dispute, but no fight, with "Russian Bob," about a woman. Witness could not positively identify the man who had hand-cuffed him. He left Canada in 1873; went back, and left again in 1882 for Arizona, where he had been before. On the second visit he remained about eight months. He got acquainted with a good many cowboys there; did not claim to be an expert shot, and had never made that claim in Astoria; had been accustomed to carrying a pistol; never had any trouble with the Arizona cowboys. In Astoria he had worked for three days tending bar, but during the balance of his residence there was spending money he had brought there; had never voted in this country; he had a room in the Parker house in Astoria, and slept there sometimes at night; he was in the saloons of "Swilltown," and occasionally played cards there. On redirect examination he stated that he knew a man in Astoria called "Arizona Jack," but he (the witness) was not that man. It was customary for saloon keepers to keep a six-shooter or some other weapon under the bar, and when he was tending bar he kept one for use in case any one attempted to molest him. When arrested he was presented with no warrant, but the chief of police presented a pistol at him. Before that time he had been arrested for carrying a concealed pistol; he put up $20 bail, forfeited it, and the affair ended.

In the afternoon several witnesses testified to the whipping by the vigilance committee, and that this committee was composed of about 200 of the best citizens of the town—merchants and business men.

About 3 o'clock the plaintiff rested his case, and the defendants called Mayor Hahn of Astoria, who testified that the committee was organized to aid the officers of the law, and only did what every one deemed necessary under the circumstances. Similar testimony by other citizens occupied the remainder of the day.

EVENING SESSION.

An evening session of the court was held, during which the testimony of a large number of witnesses in behalf of the defense was taken. The principal object of the testimony seemed to be to mitigate the offenses committed by the vigilantes. At 9:30 the defense rested and the plaintiff commenced introducing testimony in rebuttal.

DAYTON NOTES.

[FROM THE OREGONIAN'S LOCAL CORRESPONDENT.]

DAYTON, W. T., Nov. 26.

Money is plenty. Everybody is busy, and getting good pay.

Prairie chickens are quite plentiful in this section. Your correspondent recently bagged a dozen in a couple of hours.

Cattle buyers have been numerous this fall, and prices have ranged high; calves $12, yearlings $18, two-year-olds $25, and cows $30.

Thanksgiving will be properly observed by the people of Dayton. In the absence of trees, turkeys are roosting on the tops of houses and barns.

The Dayton public schools were never in a more flourishing condition than now. Four buildings are occupied, and the attendance is upward of 400 pupils. The principal and city superintendent, Prof. F. M. McCully, exhibits splendid judgment in his management. His ability as an educator, coupled with his energetic qualities, have won for him great popularity here.

Winter has come, this year, to the people here with scarcely so much as a note of warning. Early Saturday morning snow fell to the depth of three inches. During the day it snowed half an inch more; since then it has been freezing more or less. Reports received from Lewiston, Moscow and Colfax indicate the storm to be general to the eastward. Several weeks of cold weather are predicted. No snow at Walla Walla.

THE BAGS AGAIN.

TO THE PUBLIC: The ladies have done their very best to distribute the bags thoroughly over the whole city, but they have received word already to-day that many houses are left without any. They have gone out themselves as far as possible, and paid messengers yesterday to take the streets that had been left, but they find still that there are many omitted.

Will everybody who wishes to give something, please have the bundle ready, and it shall be called for. It is not the fault of the ladies if any are neglected. They will do their utmost.

MRS. HOLBROOK.

PORTLAND, Nov. 27.

NOTES FROM THE DALLES.

[FROM THE OREGONIAN'S LOCAL CORRESPONDENT.]

THE DALLES, Nov. 26.

The Oak Leaf Social Club will give a party about the 3d of December.

Mrs. J. M. Benson and daughter are visiting relatives in New York state.

Mrs. E. C. Price, nee Miss Viola McFarland, is visiting her parents in the city.

The work on the Brewery hill, under the management of Mr. Sherer, is progressing rapidly.

Miss Nettie Williams has returned from a visit to her cousin, Miss Gussie Marshall of Portland.

Zamlooh, the prestidigitateur, holds levees each night and gives satisfaction, from all accounts.

Mr. T. W. Miller and Mrs. Gilbert were married last Wednesday, and are off on a bridal trip to California.

Lux & Miller, cattle kings of San Francisco, are offering $20 per head for cattle, on John Days, without success.

A post of the Grand Army of the Republic has been established in this city. It is called the Joe Hooker post.

An ice skating club is to be organized this week, which is a dead certain indication that we will have no ice this winter.

Milton R. Lilly of Seattle is in the city for a few days. He has entered into partnership with Colonel Sparr of Kentucky in the horse-raising business.

Aurora borealis lights are getting to be a common occurrence. The past three nights have been illuminated magnificently by these free contributions of nature.

Holiday goods are arriving. The Dalles will be well supplied this season with all those little articles which go to make a man feel poor and enjoy his Christmas holidays properly.

A dancing school, under the management of Carrigan & Wilson, opens this evening. Mr. Carrigan will furnish music and Mr. Wilson heels. Quite a large class is already on the list.

Several wrecks and sandstorms on the railroad have delayed trains and made the arrival and departure of mails decidedly inconvenient. The report this morning is that the way is clear.

The condition of the streets is much improved between this time last year and now. Each crosswalk makes a drain of itself, and the streets are continuous drains—on the purses of the taxpayers.

Next Wednesday evening a grand carnival will be given by the skating club. Several prizes are offered. The carnivals of last winter will be eclipsed, if the promises of the club are adhered to.

Richard Closter of Grass valley sold his place, twelve miles east of Shearer's, to Mr. Bernard of Tygh for a consideration of $800. It has been but a few years since Mr. Closter paid $1680 for the same ranch.

The first snow of the season fell Friday evening and lasted nearly all day Saturday. The Klickitat hills are covered with a mantle of this heavy frost, and the idea is general that our winter is upon us this early.

A fire on the hill, last Thursday morning, destroyed a building in the rear of T. A. Hudson's residence. A brisk breeze was up at the time, but luckily no other place "caught on." The fire companies were unable to reach the location. Loss slight.

The Sisters' academy of Mary Immaculate is about finished. This institution is prepared for 150 pupils at the start, with facilities for quickly enlarging the capacity to 750. The first object in the shape of a building which meets the passenger's eye on entering The Dalles from the west is this massive brick structure.

The dead body of a woman was brought down from "up" country last Saturday, but did not remain in town long enough to have any definite information as to its destination brought out. It is said that the corpse was in an advanced stage of decomposition, and loosely placed in a rough box. However, it could not be correctly ascertained.

George Allen, a printer, met with a serious accident Friday evening. He was aboard the down train, which for some reason or other was waiting on the trestlework, and as he essayed to step from the car he was precipitated a distance of over thirty feet to the ground below. His limbs are paralyzed. He now lies in a critical condition at the Umatilla house.

The fair for the new Academy of Mary Immaculate wound up, Friday evening, satisfactorily to all parties. The amount realized will reach over $2000. The voting on the prettiest girl in town was a feature of the week, and a young lady from San Francisco, Miss Tillie Kehrlein, was allowed to carry off the prize, a diamond ring. The articles raffled were of fine workmanship, contributed from all parts of the state, and brought prices not much in excess of their value.

Yesterday evening the American Bible Association met in the Baptist church, and all other denominations adjourned their congregations accordingly. The meeting was opened with prayer by Rev. W. L. MacEwan of the Episcopal church, followed, according to programme, by Revs. J. D. Flenner, D B Gray and O D Taylor, of the Methodist, Congregationalist and Baptist churches. Mr. H Gerson also read in a creditable manner an extract from the Hebrew bible. The Mozart glee club favored the audience during the intervals with choice selections. Miss Chamberlain sang a beautiful solo, the gem of the evening, and Miss Solomon gave a recitation very well rendered. A collection was taken up of $41 40.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, NOV. 28 1883.

WASHINGTON LEGISLATURE.

COUNCIL.

OLYMPIA, Nov 26

C. B 125, substitute for C. B 2, to incorporate the city of Walla Walla. Passed.

C B 126 was introduced by the committee to incorporate the city of Colfax.

C. B. 127, introduced as a substitute to provide means for insuring the capitol building, library, etc and appropriating $150 therefor. Hale had hoped that a sufficient sum would have been appropriated for the purpose of clearing the grounds All the work that had been done for many years to improve the capitol grounds had been done by the citizens The bill asked for $2000, and while he would not, probably, be able to obtain that amount, yet a sufficient sum should be appropriated to do important work.

Smith thought the amount asked for in the original bill was preposterous and entirely too extravagant, and while he was in favor of increasing the amount reported by the committee, he could not think of voting for such a sum as $2000

Collins did not care if they put on a hundred or two to cut the ground out and protect the buildings from forest fires

The bill was then re-referred

H. B 98, to organize Skagit county, was made the special order for 2 P. M. to-day

H. B. 34, relative to time of paying territorial warrants Passed

H. B. 90, relative to inspection and ventilation of mines. Passed.

C. B. 61, to exempt hospitals, schools and church property from taxation, then came up.

Smith called attention to the organic act, providing that taxation shall be equal and uniform

Caton looked on that provision as liable to alteration the same as any other law The revenue bill and other bills contain any number of amendments Why could this not be amended?

Kerr referred to the exemption of churches, monasteries and convents in Europe in the olden times, when whole kingdoms were swamped by such action He had been taught to believe that church and state must be separate. By the passage of this bill all such corporations would eventually push for more and more, until it would be impossible to meet their demands.

Collins did not want any questions relative to the practice in Europe to be brought into this body. It made no difference to him what they did in Ireland, Scotland or England. He wished it to be understood that he was an American, living under American laws The church teaches morality the hospitals cared for sick people, and the schools were for the benefit of all. He believed in doing all that could be done for charitable objects, and would vote for the bill.

Hale believed in taxing everything Had no objection to limiting the amount of church property to $5000 if necessary.

Caton did not believe in taxing institutions that had been established by charitable donations. Referred to the Sisters' hospital at Walla Walla and Seattle, where every comfort was provided for inmates, whether rich or poor. By charity these institutions are built, and now you proceed to levy a tax on these very donations

The bill was then put on its final passage, and resulted as follows: Ayes—Caton, Collins, Edmiston, Harper, Houghton, Power, President—7 Noes—Burk, Hale, Kerr, Smith, Whitehouse—5. So the bill passed. After which the council took a recess.

HOUSE

C. B 51, Seattle charter Passed

The bill making appropriation for hospital for insane having been too hastily acted on, was, on motion, reconsidered and referred to a committee.

C. B 29, relative to sale of railroad equipments and rolling stock. Passed.

H. M. 12, relating to the town site of Port Angeles. Passed

The following bills were then introduced

H. B. 141, by Ferguson, relating to qualification of voters at municipal elections, and to put the charters in proper shape to allow women to vote. Passed

H. B. 142, to provide for distribution of the laws

H. B 143, making appropriations for territorial purposes.

H. B 37, to provide for collecting territorial and county revenues.

The house then took a recess.

AFTERNOON

The first thing taken up was H B 9, relative to penitentiary matters. The bill provides for contracting with Messrs Billings, Smith and Shead for the keeping of the territorial prisoners at the rate of 70 cents per day, that the riveted shackles shall be discarded; that a certain amount of territorial taxes shall be placed aside to aid in erecting a new penitentiary, etc. The bill was passed

H B. 127, providing for the building of an insane asylum east of the mountains, was sent to the engrossing committee.

A substitute was presented for H. B 39, relative to costs in suits for attachment. Killed

H. B. 73, relating to trespasses. Passed.

C. B. 125, to incorporate the city of Walla Walla. Passed

C B. 84, to exempt school and other buildings from taxation, was tabled, subject to call

C B 46, exempting the Whitman college from taxation, was passed

H B. 118, authorizing Yakima county commissioners to build bridges Passed.

H B. 120, repealing all sections of the code relative to Sunday, after a spirited discussion was killed and scalped, and its remains were unrecognizable.

Another recess was taken till this evening

Never has there been a more useless waste of time than took place this afternoon, especially when it is remembered that any number of bills are on the table awaiting action. It is hard to understand why men use so little judgment in such cases This remark is applicable to the lower house also, as it seems impossible for some men to see a measure go through on any subject without having something to say on the matter.

The first bill taken up this afternoon was H B 98, to create and organize the county of Skagit Power made some very appropriate remarks in reference to it, showing that the people in that part of the territory were very anxious on the subject, as it would better their condition materially Caton contended that it would only be a matter of justice to pass the bill, as the people of the proposed new county were ready and willing to shoulder their new burdens The vote on final passage stood as follows Ayes—Caton, Collins, Edmiston, Harper, Power Whitehouse, President—7. Noes—Burk, Hale, Houghton, Kerr, Smith—5 So the bill passed

Next on the docket was that terrible bugbear, that molehill suddenly transformed into a mountain, C. B. 116, in relation to licenses, which I am sorry to say took up two valuable hours in a discussion that was simply absurd in all its phases. The better class of liquor sellers are anxious for the passage of a bill which will serve to protect their interests against the cent dives and disreputable holes that are starting up in every town in the territory, and they had no objection to the payment of a high license towards that end, and although to some it might look like monopoly, yet in the end it would have been beneficial to all, so long as such institutions have to be tolerated. But the introduction of such a measure as the above bill was only calculated to make things worse, and it is very likely that by to-morrow it will be indefinitely postponed First of all, Caton moved to strike the word "male" from the bill altogether This was voted down, Collins, Caton, Smith and Whitehouse being the only members voting in favor of it. Then Caton moved to amend by striking but the provision making licenses range all the way from $200 to $800, and fixing the amount at $400 so as to make it equal everywhere

Edmiston believed this was intended to kill the bill, and hoped it would not be adopted.

Caton again rose and spoke to the point. He denied having any intention to kill the bill Looking at the question in a moral or religious angle he could not take sides with it, for the reason that if the business was immoral and utterly wrong he would never vote to license a wrong Therefore he must look at it as a question of revenue or restraint This evil exists in the larger cities, such as Olympia, Seattle, Walla Walla, etc., in an entirely different form from that which it takes in country places where, perhaps, $5 would be the extent of a man's sales in one week. Corporations have the power to grapple with the evil, and if they don't do it it must be the fault of those electing them to offices for which they are not fit

The motion to amend was lost. Then Caton introduced a substitute of a humorous nature, which produced considerable merriment. This bill went on to provide that each one wishing to become a drinker shall procure a license for which he shall pay $50 and be published as a drinker in some newspaper, that the rumseller shall pay some summons tax and give a bond in $10,000 etc, etc The gentleman then claimed that this was what he designated restraint, and he defied any of the members of the council to do more. The motion to adopt the substitute was lost Power then moved to amend by making the amount of tax read from $200 to $500. This was carried, Burk, Edmiston and Hale voting negatively

The question being on the suspension of the rules and to go to final passage, Collins made an irregular speech of some duration stating that he had been in the liquor business for 22 years, and had $100,000 capital invested in it and therefore knew all about the subject matter under discussion Did not intend to speak on the question, but was forced to it. The vote stood: Ayes, Burk, Edmiston, Hale, Harper, Power, President—6, Noes, Caton, Collins, Houghton Kerr, Smith, Whitehouse—6, so the motion was lost and the bill was ordered engrossed, after which the council adjourned

ELECTION OF CHIEF ENGINEER

The election of chief engineer of the East Portland fire department occurred Monday evening last, as by law provided, but doubtless owing to the severity of the weather a light vote was cast The candidates were Thos C Smith of Mount Hood Co No 1, and Jas H Sprague of Third Ward No 2, and the adherents of the former confidently claim his election. The official result however will not be known till the meeting of the common council, on Monday next, whose duty it is at that time to open and count the ballots The following shows the proportionate number of votes cast to the membership of each company Mount Hood No 1 with a membership of 48, cast 35 votes Third Ward No 2, with 34, cast 24, and Relief No 3 of the first ward with 24, cast 12 It is claimed that Smith gets about 20 votes in the second ward, and a majority of those in the first, but the losing candidate may console himself with the fact that it was a very wet day when he got left.

SELF-PRESERVATION THE FIRST LAW OF NATURE.

PORTLAND Nov 27

To THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

The question of establishing a board of health being mooted, it would not be amiss to say a few words on the subject, and an effort to impress the necessity of such a step upon the minds of our citizens would not be out of place Portland with 30 000 inhabitants is at the present time without adequate sanitary laws and regulations We are constantly liable to epidemics and are without the means of battling against them

At the present moment the hospitals are over crowded with cases of typhoid fever and mourning is found under the roofs of residences in the best and most sanitary portions of our city, caused by the taking away of some cherished one

Parents are tenderly and anxiously watching over the beds of children bound down in the embrace of typhoid fever and scarlatina praying for their speedy recovery and restoration Take up your daily papers and not a day passes but you find a funeral notice of some little innocent who did not find its death but through the criminal inattention of our citizens to sanitary regulations

Being a physician it would not be out of place for me to state some of the causes which propagate typhoid fever, and the same may be said of any zymotic disease From observations during the epidemic of typhoid in France and Germany the disease was signalized by the following conditions The more or less immediate vicinity of stagnant water marshes or bogs, from which effluvia arises and spread over the people dunghills often accumulated and allowed to remain for a long time upon a public thoroughfare walls of water permeated with water infected by drains and dunghills conduits of impure water, which become a source of infection to the houses near which they pass, or, discharging their contents upon the public streets form puddles of stagnant water in streets badly kept and unprovided with suitable means for carrying off the fluid accumulations The accumulated or pent up sewerage of a house or vault escapes into the subjacent soil within and about it, soaking into the well and defiling drinking water and giving off filthy emanations into the air A particular drain becomes obstructed bad odors arise into the houses in communication therewith and sicken its inhabitants and an outbreak of typhoid fever follows

Such are almost constantly observed conditions with which enteric fever is associated, and we must therefore conclude that this disease has a spontaneous origin in putrescent matter that these when preserved from the purifying influences of air and water, generate a poison which, when admitted into the body, produces typhoid and similar diseases Nobody in this city will dispute that most of these conditions exist and are visible to all Are there not private vaults all over the city reeking with filth and pestilence? From the natural position of Portland our sewerage system should be second to none But examine the small cement pipe an apology for a sewer, and ask if it is adequate to carry the refuse of a large and constantly growing city Let any one go along one of our streets that crosses Second street near Chinatown and smell the nauseating vapors arising from this quarter and say this is a healthy city And still, by reason of our topographical position, all these death breeding influences can be easily destroyed by immediately ushering the unhygienic into the realms of sanitary influences And this can only be done by necessary laws establishing a board of health and health officers to abate all conditions likely to impair health with full power to act and not likely to be handicapped in a good work When such a state of affairs exists, our fair city may aspire to the cognomen of a city and not to the name of a "western backwoods village"

TRADE AND COMMERCE.

TUESDAY Nov 27

Another quiet day is added to those of this month The markets are generally slow and few changes are to be noted The outgoing steamer carries 100 tons flour For the Columbia there is waiting a considerable shipment of wheat Incoming freights are large for the season

In the northern portion of the city the railway companies continue to be making substantial improvements rendering lower Front street all but impassable for team The new Kalama freight depot is finished, but will not be used to any extent until spring cars being generally loaded at Ainsworth dock or freight boated to Kalama Through trains to the Sound will not be regular until spring, when the new transfer boat will be in service

FREIGHTS—Market flat shippers holding back deeming operations too uncertain even for speculation Freights here have hardly receded enough to effect decline abroad and advance here of wheat The two or three iron vessels now here will probably be picked up for flour in course of time To arrive there is but five iron and no wood that will be available by the middle of December so we are not threatened with an avalanche of tonnage

WHEAT—Receipts are much smaller but probably the decrease is largely temporary There are not wanting signs that wheat receipts are slowly giving way to flour to a noticeable extent Offerings here are not large but are held at an advance of $1 75 on valley and $1 66¼ for Walla Walla. Reported sales include 700 tons of Walla Walla free on board at $1 70 and 3000 bushels valley at $1 7½ on wharf In the interior it is claimed that nearly $1 80 is paid by millers English markets continue easy and unsatisfactory, and present export business promises no profit

FLOUR—Receipts increased by reason of river traffic, and one firm has ship to California by to night's steamer 1000 barrels of various brands Values show no change

OATS—Market shows some additional tone and 60c holdings promise to move shortly Inferior qualities continue to exercise an unfavorable influence The consumption of millstuff is increasing

HOPS—Additional sales are reported at 20 cents, and the presence of an increased number of buyers gives promise of more business Advices indicate quiet but steady markets at the east

POULTRY—All kinds moved more freely to day and chickens sold at $3@4 50 ducks $6@8 geese $7@10 turkeys 16@18 as to size The demand will fall off after to-morrow

MARVELOUS STORY

TOLD IN TWO LETTERS.

FROM THE SON: "28 Cedar St., New York, Oct 28, 1882

"Gentlemen My father resides at Glover, Vt. He has been a great sufferer from Scrofula, and the inclosed letter will tell you what a marvelous effect

has had in his case I think his blood must have contained the humor for at least ten years, but it did not show, except in the form of a scrofulous sore on the wrist until about five years ago. From a few spots which appeared at that time, it gradually spread so as to cover his entire body I assure you he was terribly afflicted and an object of pity, when he began using your medicine. Now there are few men of his age who enjoy as good health as he has. I could easily name fifty persons who would testify to the facts in his case

Yours truly, W M. PHILLIPS."

FROM THE FATHER: "It is both a pleasure and a duty for me to state to you the benefit I have derived from the use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Six months ago I was completely covered with a terrible humor and scrofulous sores. The humor caused an incessant and intolerable itching and the skin cracked so as to cause the blood to flow in many places whenever I moved. My sufferings were great, and my life a burden. I commenced the use of the SARSAPARILLA in April last, and have used it regularly since that time My condition began to improve at once The sores have all healed and I feel perfectly well in every respect—being now able to do a good day's work although 73 years of age Many inquire what has wrought such a cure in my case, and I tell them as I have here tried to tell you, AYER'S SARSAPARILLA Glover, Vt., Oct. 21, 1882. Yours gratefully, HIRAM PHILLIPS."

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA cures Scrofula and all Scrofulous Complaints, Erysipelas, Eczema, Ringworm, Blotches, Sores, Boils, Tumors, and Eruptions of the Skin. It clears the blood of all impurities, aids digestion, stimulates the action of the bowels, and thus restores vitality and strengthens the whole system.

ELLIS SPAVIN CURE CO

Dear Sirs We were having an occasion to put a valuable horse in condition for a race In giving the horse his work he threw out a curb, in consequence of which I would have sold him at that time for three hundred dollars $300 or less Hearing of Ellis Spavin Cure Liniment I tried it with good results In two weeks the curb was gone and the horse going sound I put him in condition again at the two months I sold him for as many thousands as we valued him worth hundreds when he had the curb The horse is at present boarding at our stable and being driven on the road every day We can safely recommend your Spavin Cure Liniment for all bone diseases and all lumps of any kind if properly used. A WELL KNOWN DRUGGIST

My drug store was the first to sell Swift's Specific It was then put up in quart bottles, which sold for $[illegible] each I have seen a great many cases cured by its use and some who had tried all sorts of treatment In fact I have never known it to fail when taken properly I sell a large quantity of it, and for all diseases that are dependent on blood poison or skin humor it cures

Pimples or Blotches on the Skin,

And makes the complexion fair and rosy As for blood taint there is no such word as fail It cures cases that have long withstood other sorts of treatment and without any of those recurring troubles that generally follow mercurial and other so-called cures.

DRY TETTER.

For years I was afflicted with Dry Tetter of the most obstinate type Was treated by many of the best physicians took quantities of mercury potash and arsenic which instead of curing the tetter crippled me up with mineral poison and rheumatism The tetter continued to grow worse and the itching almost made me crazy In this condition I was induced to take Swift's Specific and the result was astonishing as it was gratifying In a few months the tetter was entirely well the mercurial poisoning all out of my system and I was a well man—and due only to Swift's Specific All like sufferers should take it

I have a bright little daughter who will be two years old the 31st month She has been troubled nearly ever since her birth with a skin disease, which I first diagnosed chicken pox but later found it to be some sort of eczema at any rate it resists very stubbornly all the different treatments. I procured one bottle of Swift's Specific and gave it to her in small doses three times a day and in a short while had the satisfaction to see that she was entirely well I am so well pleased with its effects on her that I shall not only use it in my practice but I shall administer it to my other children and take it myself
